

PRESS RELEASE No 64/23

Luxembourg, 20 April 2023

The final of the “European Law Moot Court” competition will take place tomorrow, April 21, at the Court of Justice of the European Union in Luxembourg

The closing arguments will be broadcast live from 2.45 p.m.

In accordance with the motto “Justice close to the citizen”, under which the Court of Justice of the European Union has just celebrated its 70th anniversary last December, the Court continues its constant efforts to bring together young Europeans in particular.

Tomorrow, Friday, April 21, 2023, it will host the final phase of the “European Law Moot Court” competition. This is the world’s largest moot court competition on EU law. Organized for the first time during the 1988-1989 academic year, this competition aims to promote practical knowledge of EU law and the art of advocacy among law students. The final, the last stage of the competition, has been held at the Court since 1991.

The students were selected following an extremely rigorous process (approximately 80 teams initially) that included a written phase and an oral phase. The teams will plead in tomorrow’s final before juries made up of Members of the Court of Justice and the General Court. They represent seven universities from different countries and won the regional finals which took place in February and March 2023 in Lund (Sweden), Bucharest (Romania), Lille (France) and Barcelona (Spain).

Students from EU Member States as well as some third countries, such as the United States and Switzerland, took part in this edition of the competition.
